Remote. Untrammeled. Spectacular. Antarctica is one of the most exhilarating adventures on Earth. Every facet is thrilling and lovely. Its vastness is both humbling and uplifting, as is the ice in all its myriad forms. Relish the penguins—with their endlessly amusing antics, gabbling in their rookeries, bobbing by on a blue berg, or catapulting on to the shore. See mountains rising some 9,000 feet up from the sea and an abundance of marine mammals. Hike and explore by Zodiac. Travel with an expedition leader and naturalists who have hundreds of journeys under their parkas. A professional photographer will give talks and one-on-one photo tips in the field, and an undersea specialist captures rarely seen footage of life beneath the icy surface for viewing in the comfort of the ship’s lounge. Spend your days and nights on a once-in-a-lifetime adventure with your fellow Duke Alumni and friends.

DAY 1: U.S./Buenos Aires, Argentina
Depart U.S. this evening on an overnight flight to Buenos Aires.

DAY 2: Buenos Aires
Arrive this morning in cosmopolitan Buenos Aires, set on the Rio de la Plata, and check in to the fine Alvear Art Hotel (or similar). In the afternoon, enjoy a guided tour of the city, seeing its Beaux Arts palaces, grand boulevards, and the famous balcony forever associated with Eva Peron. In the early evening, we gather for an informal reception at the hotel. (Day 2: L)

DAY 3: Fly to Ushuaia, Argentina/Embark
Today we fly by private charter flight to Ushuaia, Argentina. This morning’s flight will bring us over Patagonia before landing in Ushuaia, the southern-most city in the world. Enjoy lunch on a catamaran cruise of the Beagle Channel. Embark the National Geographic Explorer and set sail. (B,L,D)

DAY 4: At Sea/Drake Passage
We awake this morning well into our journey across the Drake Passage. Lying between Cape Horn and the Antarctic Peninsula, the Drake holds a unique place in maritime lore. Sometimes misty and gray, other times calm and clear, crossing the legendary Drake Passage is unforgettable—a milestone in any adventurer’s personal travel history. (B,L,D)
DAYS 5-10: Antarctica
With long hours of daylight at this time of year, we have ample opportunity to explore the Antarctic Peninsula and the surrounding islands. In keeping with the nature of an expedition, our schedule is flexible so that we can take advantage of the unexpected—watching whales at play off the bow, taking an after-dinner Zodiac cruise, or heading out on an unplanned excursion. We anticipate offering opportunities each day to hike, kayak among the ice floes, and experience close encounters with wildlife. You may have the thrill of watching our powerful ship crunch through the pack ice, or step ashore to thousands of Adélie and gentoo penguins. You’ll learn how climate change affects the penguin populations, and how best to capture your images from a world-class photographer. Back aboard, our undersea specialist may present video from that day’s dive or show rare images taken up to 1,000 feet below the surface using our ROV. Our expert staff will craft an expedition where you will learn, see, and experience the wonders of the seventh continent. (B,L,D)

DAYS 11 AND 12: At Sea
As we sail back to Ushuaia, an albatross or two may join the avian escort of seabirds that cross our bow, and our spotters will keep an eye out for marine life. There’ll be plenty of time to enjoy a wellness treatment, log sometime in the gym, or catch up on the book you haven’t had a minute to read. Celebrate our voyage at a farewell dinner on board. (B,L,D)

DAYS 13 AND 14: Ushuaia, Argentina/Disembark/Buenos Aires/U.S.
After breakfast, we disembark in Ushuaia. Fly by charter to Buenos Aires and connect with your overnight flight home. Please confirm departure and arrival cities and dates before booking your flights. (Day 13: B,L)

OPTIONAL EXTENSIONS: Buenos Aires: Pre-voyage, 2 days; Iguazú Falls: Post-voyage, 3 days; Easter Island: Post-voyage, 4 days. Call for details.

TRAVEL WITH PROFESSOR NICOLAS CASSAR
NICOLAS CASSAR received a B.S. from McGill University, a Ph.D. from the University of Hawaii, and was a postdoctoral fellow and research scholar at Princeton University before coming to Duke. He is currently a Professor and Senior Associate Dean of Research and Doctoral Programs in the Nicholas School of the Environment. His research is in biogeochemistry with the objective of constraining the mechanisms governing carbon, nitrogen, and oxygen in our global climate. Dr. Cassar’s work is interdisciplinary, integrating field and satellite observations, laboratory experiments, method development, modeling, and theory. He has sailed on multiple research vessels navigating the seven seas, all the way from the North Pole to the waters off Antarctica. As part of his work, Dr. Cassar studies the central role polar oceans play in our global climate, and conversely, how they are impacted by climate change.

He has received numerous awards, including an Alfred P. Sloan fellowship, an NSF CAREER award, and a Presidential Early Career Award for Scientists and Engineers (PECASE). The PECASE is the highest honor bestowed by the United States government on outstanding scientists and engineers in the early stages of their independent research careers.

SELF-DISINFECTING SHIPS: Lindblad Expeditions became the first self-disinfecting fleet with the rollout of the ACT CleanCoat™ system in 2019. This photocatalytic cleaning process activates when illuminated, continuously breaking down unwanted microbes such as bacteria, viruses, mold, and airborne allergens. The positive environmental impacts of this non-toxic, chemical-free system are many: less plastic in the supply chain and waste stream, and more than one million gallons of water saved annually. The system lowers our carbon footprint and creates a cleaner, healthier shipboard environment for guests and crew alike.
