| 9:00am - 6:00pm | CHECK-IN AT REUNIONS HEADQUARTERS
Bryan Center            |
| 10:00am - 10:45am | Duke Libraries Behind the Scenes: Exhibiting our Treasures
Tour will meet in the Biddle Rare Book Room on the first floor of Rubenstein Library
Join Meg Brown, the E. Rhodes and Leona B. Carpenter Foundation Exhibits Coordinator, on a tour of the Libraries’ main exhibition galleries. You will learn about how our exhibits come together while viewing some of our rarest materials, including Virginia Woolf’s writing desk, a 1789 draft of the Bill of Rights printed in one of America’s first newspapers, a collection of photographs and documents from Governor Terry Sanford’s defining time as Duke’s sixth President, and materials documenting the work of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee during the Civil Rights Movement. |
| 10:00am - 10:45am | Duke Libraries Behind the Scenes: Conserve, Protect, and Digitize
Tour will meet in the Sperling Lobby on the first floor of Rubenstein Library
Join Molly Bragg, Head of Digital Collections, and Beth Doyle, Leona B. Carpenter Senior Conservator and Head of Conservation Services, on a rare glimpse of the Digital Production Center and the Roberts Conservation Lab at Duke University Libraries. You will learn how our expert staff restore and care for our numerous and varied materials, from the most delicate papyri to the latest hardback, and how these materials are digitized to ensure their preservation and accessibility for generations to come. |
| 10:00am - 5:00pm | Nasher Museum Exhibitions of View
The Nasher Museum of Art, 2001 Campus Drive
Free Nasher admission for alumni with reunion pit-pass and children 17 and under.
--Solidary and Solitary: The Pamela J. Joyner and Alfred J. Giuffrida Collection--
A major nationwide touring exhibition that offers a new perspective on the critical contribution artists of African descent have made to the evolution of abstract art from 1940s to the present.
--John Akomfrah: Precarity--
A new multi-channel video installation by acclaimed British filmmaker John Akomfrah, 2017 winner of the UK's Artes Mundi Prize. This work is co-commissioned by the Nasher Museum and was featured at Prospect.4 New Orleans.
--Courtside: Photographs by Bill Bamberger--
Vibrant color photographs capture basketball hoops from around the world. Artist Bill Bamberger is a Durham resident and instructor at Duke’s Center for Documentary Studies and UNC-Chapel Hill. Duke students curated the exhibition through a Curatorial Practicum class as part of the new Undergraduate Concentration in Museum Theory & Practice. Within The Collection Galleries. |

Mindfulness in Life and Work
Location TBD

Mindfulness has proven to be effective in pain management, stress reduction (e.g., Duke Integrative Medicine) and a number of psychological disorders. It is now becoming more mainstream in professional and organizational development programs in business (e.g., Google, Target, General Mills, etc.). This discussion will draw upon research and personal experience to provide some insight into what the Mindfulness practice is and how it may potentially impact physical, emotional, cognitive and spiritual levels of our lives and work.

Roy Maurer has a 30+ year career as a corporate executive and management consultant. He is a partner with The Clarion Group advising senior executives on strategy and leadership development. In between his M. Div. and MBA, Roy spent several years living in Zen Buddhist and Christian monastic settings and pursuing long, intensive retreats in Mindfulness meditation, as well as teaching religion, ethics and psychology.

A major nationwide touring exhibition that offers a new perspective on the critical contribution artists of African descent have made to the evolution of abstract art from 1940s to the present.

--- John Akomfrah: Precarity

A new multi-channel video installation by acclaimed British filmmaker John Akomfrah, 2017 winner of the UK's Artes Mundi Prize. This work is co-commissioned by the Nasher Museum and was featured at Prospect.4 New Orleans.

--- Courtside: Photographs by Bill Bamberger

Vibrant color photographs capture basketball hoops from around the world. Artist Bill Bamberger is a Durham resident and instructor at Duke's Center for Documentary Studies and UNC-Chapel Hill. Duke students curated the exhibition through a Curatorial Practicum class as part of the new Undergraduate Concentration in Museum Theory & Practice. Within The Collection Galleries.

10:00am - 5:00pm

Three Ways to Make the Most of Your Finances Through Philanthropy in 2018 and Beyond

Multi-Purpose Room 067, Brodhead Center, 416 Chapel Drive

The charitable planning experts at Duke will share three ways to fulfill personal goals, such as providing for yourself and your loved ones or planning for retirement, while making a positive impact at a charity (like Duke!). Please join us prior to Dr. Price’s state of the university address for a light breakfast and informal discussion.

President Vincent E. Price’s State of the University Address

Page Auditorium

Hear Duke's 10th president Vincent E. Price share the opportunities and challenges facing the university at his first State of the University address. Don’t miss this chance to join your classmates and cheer them on as the Annual Fund class gifts are presented.

11:30am - 12:00pm

Tour of the Brodhead Center

Tour will meet in the Brodhead Center at the operations desk

Take a quick tour and learn more about one of the most beautiful spaces on campus, the newly renovated Brodhead Center (formerly West Union).

12:00pm - 5:00pm

Blue Devil Download on the Plaza

Bryan Center Plaza

Join your classmates on the plaza to connect with student organizations and get the "download" on student life and Duke programs. Learn what it's like to be a student at Duke by connecting with student leaders of various organizations, reminisce about your time at Duke, and learn more about ways to stay involved.

Reunions Takeover at Devil's Krafthouse (formerly Hideaway)

Brodhead Center (formerly West Union)

Grab a drink and connect with your classmates or affinity groups at the Devil's Krafthouse, the new "Hide-away" on the ground floor of the Brodhead Center. Beer, non-alcoholic beverages and snacks are free with your PitPass!
