Forever Duke,

Director, Alumni Travel

Carla M. Antonaccio, Professor of Archaeology in Classical Studies and Art, Art History and Visual Studies at Duke, is a field archaeologist whose research on the late Bronze Age and later phases in the Aegean and Mediterranean has spanned a career of almost three decades. Much of her study has focused on understanding social and cultural history through material culture. She has devoted almost every summer of the past two decades to excavations at Morgantina, a settlement in Sicily that was continuously inhabited for more than 1000 years up to the time of Augustus. Her work there has evolved into what she terms “the archaeology of identity.” She also continues to think and write about her earlier research interests in the uses of the past in antiquity, and on heroes and ancestors in Greek society.

Cover Photo: Admire the beauty of Santorini’s whitewashed villages overlooking the deep turquoise waters of the Aegean Sea.

The bronze stag symbolizes the Colossus of Rhodes, one of the Seven Wonders of the Ancient World.
The Roman writer Cicero (106–43 B.C.) observed of Athens that “wherever you set your foot, you encounter some memory of the past;” the same can be said for all of Greece. Here, in the cradle of Western civilization, the legend of the lost paradise city of Atlantis lives on in Santorini, St. John the Apostle is believed to have penned the Book of Revelation on the island of Pátmos, and 14th- to 15th-century Orthodox monasteries were built atop the sandstone pinnacles of Meteora, a spectacular natural wonder. Experience firsthand the true character of Greece and the influence of prehistoric, Minoan, Mycenaean, Greco-Roman, Byzantine, Venetian and Ottoman civilizations across these captivating islands and classical sites, idyllic chora (countryside) and fabled coasts. Explore the well-preserved ruins of venerated palaces and forums; magnificent sites of early Christian faith; and the splendid architecture of columns, friezes and mosaics that exemplify the contributions of ancient Greek, Hellenistic and Roman civilizations that established our modern way of living. Enjoy an enriching, comprehensive voyage aboard the Five-Star small ship M.S. LE LYRIAL, and a travel experience like no other, featuring an included, specially designed shore excursion each day, Five-Star accommodations, all meals and custom-designed CULTURAL ENRICHMENTS unique to this itinerary. Interact with local islanders; encounter ancient history, culture, architecture, art, language and cuisine; and unpack just once! Discover the rare gems of the Greek islands, unparalleled in both beauty and in great antiquities, on this exceptional odyssey through the glorious past of Western civilization.

GUEST LECTURER
A native of Greece, historian and study leader with more than 25 years of experience in Greece, Eleni Zachariou is fluent in five languages, has an M.A. in Classical Art and Archaeology from the University of La Verne and has completed graduate work in Byzantine and Biblical studies. She will share her extensive knowledge of the islands, people, art and culture of Greece throughout the program.

Scheduled guest speaker may be altered due to circumstances beyond our control. See Release of Liability, Assumption of Risk and Binding Arbitration Agreement.

Breathtaking Meteora, a UNESCO World Heritage site, is dotted with extraordinary Orthodox monasteries built on the peaks of soaring sandstone pinnacles formed by flowing rivers over 60 million years ago.
Athens
Birthplace of democracy and home to many of history’s greatest philosophers and poets from Socrates to Herodotus, Athens is unmatched in its contributions to early Western civilization.

Historically used to mill wheat, Mykonos’ iconic round windmills contributed significantly to economic prosperity on the island between the 17th and 19th centuries.

Volos for Meteora
From the attractive port city of Volos, birthplace of legendary Jason, leader of the Argonauts, travel across the fertile Plain of Thessaly to the seldom-visited natural wonder of Meteora—Greek for “suspended in the air”—an extraordinary enigma of virtually uncharted Orthodox monasteries. This breathtaking UNESCO World Heritage site was constructed in the 14th and 15th centuries high atop soaring natural sandstone pinnacles formed during the Tertiary Period, and where the early Christian traditions of these monasteries have continued uninterrupted for hundreds of years. Originally, the only access to these lofty peaks was by way of long ladders and baskets suspended on ropes. Visit one of the four monasteries that still house active religious communities aloft these heavenly columns by way of modern roads built along the sandstone slopes overlooking verdant Peneas Valley, an impossibly majestic sight.

Delos
The mythical birthplace of Apollo and Artemis, Delos is today a UNESCO World Heritage site. It is considered to be one of the most sacred islands in the Greek world, as central to Grecian spiritual life as Olympia and Delphi. Walk along the Sacred Way to the Sanctuary of Apollo, a spectacularly rich archaeological site with remains of three separate temples from the fifth and sixth centuries B.C. Delos’ awe-inspiring ruins also showcase an entire district of Hellenistic and Roman-era houses and the 5500-seat theater (300 B.C.), the site of choral competitions during the quadrennial Delian festival.

See the magnificent Terrace of the Lions, where legendary statues carved from Náxian marble have guarded the island for nearly 2600 years.

Mykonos
According to ancient legend, the craggy hills and clefts of Mykonos were formed from the petrified bodies of giants defeated by Hercules. Mykonos' iconic windmills, sugar-white, cube-shaped houses and azure bays epitomize the spectacular beauty of the Greek Isles. The Little Venice neighborhood resembles, in design, Italy's famed canal city.
Enjoy free time to stroll the quaint streets lined with whitewashed buildings or stop in an ouzeri to nibble mezethes and sip ouzo, the quintessentially Greek aperitif.

Pátmos
The small island of Pátmos and its Greek Orthodox Monastery of St. John, a UNESCO World Heritage site, loom large in the history of Christianity. Built in 1088, the monastery is still inhabited by monks who continue to preserve it as a pilgrimage site and place of religious study. St. John the Apostle of Ephesus very possibly wrote the Book of Revelation on Pátmos in the Cave of the Apocalypse in A.D. 95.
Cultural Enrichments: Meet local residents who will discuss contemporary daily life on these ancient islands during the specially arranged ISLAND LIFE FORUM®. Later, enjoy a performance of traditional Greek music and dance on board the ship.

Rhodes
The island of Rhodes has been one of the most prosperous and strategic strongholds in the eastern Mediterranean since the Neolithic Period. Dock at the fortified wall of Rhodes Town, a UNESCO World Heritage site, and step into this extraordinarily well-preserved medieval city, built over a great Hellenistic metropolis.
A major Christian outpost during the Crusades, it is the site where the Knights of St. John erected the splendid 14th-century Palace of the Grand Masters.
Optional Excursion: Walk through the ancient village of Lindos to see the magnificent frescoes adorning the Byzantine-style Church of Panagia and the breathtaking views from its clifftop acropolis.

Heraklion for Knossos, Crete
One of the great legendary sites of all antiquity and Greek mythology is the extraordinary frescoed Palace of Minos at Knossos, built between 1700 and 1400 B.C.
Sir Arthur Evans began excavations here in 1899 that lasted more than 20 years, uncovering countless archaeological treasures.
Nearby, in Heraklion, Crete's lively capital city, discover the colorful Agora Market during an afternoon at leisure.
Cultural Enrichments: Tour the immense complex of chambers, corridors and courtyards at the Palace of Minos.
Visit Heraklion's Archaeological Museum, which exhibits a world-class collection of Minoan artifacts.

Santorini for Akrotiri Be on deck as the ship cruises into the spectacular harbor at Santorini, a natural caldera, beneath which is believed by some to be the legendary lost city of Atlantis.
A cable car descends to sea level from the elevated town of Fira, whose stunning white-walled buildings stand in stark contrast against the dark volcanic cliffs.
Cultural Enrichment: Tour the phenomenal Bronze Age ruins of Akrotiri, recently reopened to visitors. Held intact by layers of pumice and ash for over 3500 years, Akrotiri's streets reveal the architectural sophistication and advanced culture of its Minoan inhabitants.
C'est Bon! Culinary Traditions™ Option:
By special arrangement, savor distinctive island dishes presented by a local chef and paired with native Santorini wines.

The incomparable Parthenon on the Acropolis of Athens is one of the most iconic sites from classical antiquity.

On Pátmos, St. John the Apostle is believed to have written the Book of Revelation in the Cave of the Apocalypse.

The legendary site of Knossos was excavated in 1899 by British archaeologist Sir Arthur Evans.
